

Contracts Are Let For Materials In Aqueduct Project

Metropolitan water district officials were assured today of funds with which to continue work on the Colorado river aqueduct project...

The R. F. C. bid is in accordance with an agreement between the Corporation and the Metropolitan Water District under which the federal organization pledged itself to bid on and purchase aqueduct bonds up to $100,000...

Action on the bid was deferred by directors of the district until the board meeting held on Wednesday, February 1.

At the same time the district board awarded three contracts for materials to be used in connection with preliminary aqueduct construction...

The electrical equipment is to be used in the erection of a power transmission line along the aqueduct route between Cabazon and Hayfield.

Yesterday's board meeting was also marked by the induction of William M. Cook, Long Beach banker, as the new director from his city.

Preparations for the beginning of drilling operations on the giant Coachella tunnel unit of the Colorado river aqueduct were pushed forward today with materials and equipment needed on the job being assembled in the field.

At the same time, information received from field forces of the Metropolitan Water District revealed that materials and supplies are being shipped in for the two permanent camps that are being erected at Fargo and Deception canyons.

District forces are also at work, it was learned, on the construction of "toe" roads to link with the permanent roads along the line of the Coachella unit.

Full construction of the Coachella tunnels cannot be started, it was pointed out by district engineers, until work on the power lines and permanent roads has been advanced to a point convenient to tunnel operations.

Meanwhile, however, district forces are proceeding as rapidly as possible with the facilities now available, and first excavation work on the adits is expected to be under way in a short time.

The Coachella division, upon which interest is centering at the present time, consists of 23 miles of tunnel. There are ten separate bores in the unit, including the 18-mile Coachella tunnel, longest on the aqueduct line and one of the longest in the world.

The section is located in the Little San Bernardino mountains north of the Coachella Valley. The eastern end is almost due north of the town of Mecca, while the western end of the section is the Morongo Canyon, north of Palm Springs.

Arizona Desert Was Once Fertile

By ODD S. HALSETH Archaeologist of Phoenix Excavates City of Phoenicia for United Press PHOENIX, Ariz.—Excavations of the munitally owned ruins of Pueblo Grande, the largest prehistoric structure in the Salt River valley...

Archaeology shows that the ashes upon which the present city of Phoenix and its thousands of acres of adjacent farm lands has arisen represent the remains of several large communities whose concerted efforts wrested from a barren desert a veritable garden spot, irrigated and farmed on a scale comparable to that of present times.

With their stone age tools the ancients constructed a network of large canals, approximately 125 miles of which recently have been mapped by the aid of aerial photography and many sections of which are still visible and comparable in size to the modern canals.

Who the canal-builders were will perhaps never be known, but their material remains tell a graphic story of America's first gigantic land development in the forbidding desert country of central Arizona, and of how these primitive Indians succeeded as well as the first white pioneers.

They failed, finally, because of lack of modern machinery, without which the present culture would be doomed.

Where it not for an intricate system of drainage canals and hydraulic pumps the capillary action of excess irrigation water would soon render this valley unfit for farming by waterlogging and alkali deposits.

The recent find of three skullless infant burials at Pueblo Grande, interred in cement-like caliche soil with no chance of subsequent removal by rodents or other agencies, gives plausible strength to such theories, none of which, however, may ever be proved by archaeology.
